The Magistrate discharged accused with a caution.

Another river steamer has got into trouble with the Chinese Customs authorities. The s.s. Powen has been expressly interdicted, for the present at least, from making her usual trips to Canton, on account of an alleged violation of the treaty regulations. It appears that about a fortnight ago the 1816 | Powan, when about half-way up the river, on her way to Canton, was boarded by a party of Customs officers, who proceeded to make their customary search of the vessel, in the course of which they came across a quantity of contraband goods, which they immediately seized. The goods in question consisted of some fifty packages of sulphur. and saltpetre. These packages do not appear to have been stowed with any special aim at concealment, as they were found among the cargo. Nothing further was heard of the seizure till now, but in the. meantime the Customs authorities at Canton had been in correspondence with Pekin on the matter, and the result is an order prohibiting the Powan from going up the river. The contraband goods are said to have been smuggled on board the steamer by some of the passengers and crow. The Powan will be put for the present on the Macao run, her place being taken in the Canton trade by the Kiukiang.

Evidence for the defence was given people could apply. I only throw this by the Captain of the cruiser. He said the out as a suggestion. As the matter stands men were soldiers or sailors on board his vessel. They were soldiers when on shore and sailors at sea. He ordered the two defendants to engage a boat on hire which he wanted for the purpose of stowing his property on board the cruiser in order to allow the latter to be cleaned inside. giving the order he left for Hongkong and Government. Now we have a Public during his absence this trouble arose. At Health Ordinance and a Sanitary Board, first he said he had nothing to do with the Salt Commissioner or the Customs and was merely looking after robbers and pirates, but on being cross-examined he admitted that he was under the orders of the Salt Commissioner and that his orders were to guard certain mouths of the river. The literal translation of the words on the men's hats was Yi Mun, cruiser, to arrest things that have not paid duty. The flag that was taken possession of by the Police bore the same characters, with the additional words of ' Kwangtung and Kwangsi Provinces.' The officer expressed regret for what had happened, and said that if he had been on board it would not have occurred. the discussion on the by-laws for the compulsory reporting of infectious diseases owing the difficulty that arose as to who was to be rendered liable for making the The Registrar General-During the in- great many Europeans do not know these terval since last meeting, I have give, this careful study, and I find that instead of the difficulties decreasing they have increased. From enquiries I find that most of the diseases mentioned in the first clause of the by-laws are not known to the Chi nese. Even in the case of small-pox it is difficult for the ordinary Chinaman to say whether small-pox exists. They have some idea about cholera, but they do not know what particular kind is infectious. Typhus, typhoid and scarlet fever are not known to the Chinese. I took the trouble to refer to a vocabulary of diseases, by Dr Kerr of Canton, whose medical experience is very large, and I find that the Chinese terms for these diseases had to be manufactured, as there was no actual Chinese equivalent. In fact there was no natural term for the majority of the diseases. The Board should deliberate very carefully before attempting to impose a penalty on people for not declaring some thing which they really are not able to declare. It appears to me that the only THE two men belonging to the Chinese practical way of meeting the difficulty would be to appoint in each district Victoria certain poor's officers who might have received training in Western medical science and who were acquainted with be appointed to the most populous districts in a recognised dispensary to which poor at present I am perfectly certain that the Chinese are not able to report because they do not know the diseases that only Europeans with medical training are supposed

Dr Ho Kai-In support of the excellent suggestions of my friend the Registrar General I should like to say a few words, and I hope that the few words may have some effect on the and we are trying to get the Chinese to conform to the principles and practice of Western Medical Science, but the Govern ment so far as I know has done nothing to train the Chinese in this science, and yet they expect the Chinese to conform to the Ordinances. It is true, that in this Colony by private enterprise and volunteer efforts we have started something like a college to train Chinese in Western science. think it is quite useless to expect the Chiness people to observe the doctrines and principles of Western medical science without having some one to assist them. So far as the diseases under discussion are concerned, I am certain the Chinese have no knowledge of diphtheria, typhoid and typhus. I know that they put down Phillippo typhus as a disease that results from cohabiting with the other sex, which plainly shows that they know nothing of the disease, | Skött (stroke) and they apply remedies which, if not hurt- Busch ful, certainly do the patient no good. So Melbye far as diphtheria is concerned, they call it Legge name as quinsey, enlargement of the tonsile and congestion of the threat, all different. They certainly do not know anything about the infectious nature of the disease. Simmonds So far as cholera is concerned, they give that name to summer cholers and everythe disease is entirely unknown to them. Ough Small-pox is well known to many Chinese. Taylor again the idea of its infectious nature is very rudimentary. They never recomseparate, they allow their friends to visit them and they are put in the ordinary ward. If we are to require them to know ing the course we ought to provide means of assisting them in diagnosing the disease. breaking our laws without knowing it. Iregard the suggestion thrown out by the Regisbe adopted. It would also have this advantago that it would encourage the study of in the 'Paris Figaro,' of a valuable remedy stable to arrest me. with establishing a Chinese hospital; we ought now to be considering the establishing of something like a European hospital for them and also furnishing them with men who are versed in Western Medical science to assist them in this and to teach them Sanitary science and to give them avery aid in this direction the poor Chinese require. I have very much pleasure in supporting the suggestion of the Registrar General. Mr Ede said be agreed very much with what had been said by the Registrar General and Dr Ho Kai. Ho was very much averse to forcing anything on the community which would lead to difficulties, but here was the Ordinance and they had get to make the best of it. He would like to see Chinese dispensaries all over the Colony, and he would like to see doctors set up who would give advice to the poor with regard to infectious diseases. But he thought it would take a long time before auch a thing could be done. It was a matter involving public expense and was out of their hands. The question was what were they to do with the present by-laws. Mr Francis pointed out, what he said he had often done before, the stupidity of rushing into the framing of the by-laws before they had considered the general question of the Sanitary health of the Colony and the method of dealing with it. They had in everything gone into details before considering general principles. Ho thought it advisable and nucessary, if it could possibly be done, that infectious diseases should be reported. It had been shown, however, that the Chinese did not know the diseases, and the only practical suggestion that had been made was that qualified medical men should town. A necessary corollary of that was that they should make bye-laws or laws requiring every case of disease among the Chinese to be reported to those dispensaries, and the person in charge would see if it was infectious. But these dispensaries did not exist and they did not know if the Government would sanction them. Under the circumstances the only thing the Board could do was to carry a resolution that it was not in a position to legislate for the purpose of compelling reporting of infectious diseases in the present state of affairs. and calling the special attention of the Government to what they deemed necossary to be established before they could legislate. He did not see how anybody could be punished for not reporting if they were not acquainted with the character of the disease. The Chairman—As a matter of fact a diseases. Every body that was vomiting and purging sent in all directions for a doctor question of reporting infectious diseases thinking they had cholers. I was summoned to go two miles to see a child in consequence of its vomiting and purging by having the hooping cough; and the father went to the Police Station and got a dose of cholera mixture and gave to the child, a very bad thing to give. Dr Cantlie said they could surely get over the difficulty if they only asked that whenever a disease was believed to be infectious it should be reported. The Chinese ought to be encouraged to report. One of the papers thought he had suggested they should be rewarded. He did not actually say this, but he thought they ought to be encouraged. Dr Ho Kai was looking forward to the students he had done so much for being useful to the Government. In the meantime, however, they had not got these students, and he thought the Registrar General, Dr. Ho Kai and Mr. Wong Shing should say what diseases were known to the Chinese and that they should require that these be reported.

Considerable discussion followed, in the course of which Dr Cantlie pointed out that eight-ninths of the Portuguese went to Chiness doctors. Mr Ede suggested that all medical practitioners whether registered or not should be required to report. If they did not know the nature of the disease they ought not to practice. Finally a motion to the following effect was carried: That in the opinion of this Committee they cannot usefully proceed with the by-laws in their present . form and that they so report to the Board. Mr Francis said that before next meeting he would be prepared to submit two or three resolutions that might meet the difficulty. He thought the managers and keepers of hotels, boarding houses and scamen's houses, brothels and all establishments licensed by Government should be compelled to report at least small-pox.

PINANCES. The Chairman said that us the financia statement had been in the hands of membors for some time, it might be taken as read, and he moved its adoption.

Major Tripp, Clerk of the Course, said he would like to say a word or two with reference to the accounts. They would see that they had a credit balance this year. That had not been the case for years. They were $615.14 to the good, and this was principally caused by the large number of entries at last meeting which brought in $6,665. This was chiefly due to the large entries by Mr Sas-If they looked at the former year they would find that their entries did not come up to much more than $5,000 Against that in stakes and prizes they gave | the respondents. away $6,333. In the year before, the entries were $4,385 and they gave away point he should like to make a remark. He thought they gave away too much. They had a great deal in the way of expense to look forward to. The grand stands were not in a condition to stand much longer they were getting very shaky, and if the Club gave away more than they received they should find themselves in the wrong box soon. There was no doubt about it that the Balls took away a great deal their money. > THE MURDERS IN EAST LONDON SHOCKING DISCOVERIES. London, Oct. 1st.—The alarm excited by the recent murders in Whitechapel was yesterday revived and intensified by the discovery of two more murders, similar in their shocking details, which had been committed early that morning nearly in the same same locality, and it is assumed by the same hand. The first occurred at Bernerstreet, Commercial-road, and the second and by far the m at horrible, owing to the mutilation to which the body was subjected. in Mitre-square, situate on the west side of Houndsditch, midway between Bishopsgato Within and Aldgate In the former case, a woman, with her throat gashed and torn, was discovered in the back yard of 40 Berner-street, a short distance from Hanbury-street-the scene of the murder of Annie Chapman. The premises are occupied by the International Working Men's Club. The Steward of the Ciub (Lewis Diemstitz). on coming home early resterday morning. found the body of a woman lying in a corner of the yard. Having communicated with the police on duty, further assistance was sought from Leman-street Station, and the aid of Dr Phillips, the divisional surgeon, was requested. A cursory investigation served to determine the cause of death, and the body was removed to the mortuary Although in this case there was not the mutilation which was perpetrated upon the second victim, discovered an hour later in Mitre-square, reasons exist for believing that the murderer was disturbed, and his

The square in dimensions is very small: but it contains several blocks of buildings, the most prominent being those of Messra. Horner and Co., chemists and druggists, and Messrs. Kearley and Tonge, tea merchants. The arrangements of the City Police at this point, and, perhaps, owing to the late murders, are said to be very precise, and the circuit of the beat would not extend over eleven minutes. In addition to this, the men were in close touch with each other, and thereby able to have ready communication.

London, 2nd Oct. -On behalf of the City Corporation, the Lord Mayor has offered a reward of five hundred pounds for the apprehension of the murderer of the woman in Mitre-square. Other funds are also being raised for the issuing of further rewards. Several arrests of persons suspected have been made; but, in all cases, the persons detained have shown their innocence, and been released. The police are following up every possible clue that is suggested to them, and are still searching in directions where suspicion rests; but, so far, their efforts have been without result.

The whole Whitechapel district yester lay continued in a state of terror, owing to the murderer being still at large. It was stated at a meeting of the District Board of Works last night that trade in the locality had been paralysed by the fear which generally prevailed. Crowds surrounded the scenes of Sueday's parders during the whole day, although all traces of the crimes had been removed.

A Coroner's Inquest was opened yesterday on the body of Ellizabeth Stride, the woman murdered in the yard of the Socialist Club in Berner-street. The woman. it has been ascertained, left bor lodgings in Dean-street, Spitalfields, at seven o'clock on Saturday evening and was not seen again until her hedy was found at one o'clock on Sunday morning. The inquest was adjourned until to-day. Owing to the body of the woman murdered in Mitresequere not having been identified, the inquest will not be opened till Thursday.

About fifty pounds in money, and stamps to the value of three handred and fifty pounds, were stolen.
